

This game uses an old Engine, which may cause it not to run very well on modern machines. If the game lags too much, it may be that it is running in a different Windows compatibility mode, or there is something wrong with the DirectX settings, but if it doesn't work at all, then the game is not for your computer. If it only lags moderately, you can reduce it by replacing the Script.dat file in the game folder with the one in the Lower far view folder. This reduces the visibility, which doesn't look so good in some places, but at least the game runs faster
